Description:

This property is a total of 740 acres and located near New Cuyama, CA, a beautiful agricultural valley adjacent to Los Padres National Forest. Easy drive from Los Angeles. I am looking for someone who might be interested in storing an aircraft, or someone who is needing a place to build one, a relaxing location for an RV, or ???, etc. There is an unpaved ascending airstrip, concrete runup pad, 2 concrete tie down parking spots, and a large hangar (we stored 2 Cessnas in the past). I will update the measurements soon. There could be a lot of potential for the right person. The price is negotiable, very reasonable. Please contact me if interested or if you have questions, if you email include your phone number.
