Description:

CBRE is pleased to present Jay's Air Center, a dynamic, cutting-edge aircraft hangar development for light general aviation hangars, and class A aviation office space at John Wayne Airport. Jay's Air Center represents an exciting and entirely new alternative for general aviation aircraft owners and users based in Orange County. Upwardly mobile area executives, entrepreneurs, as well as the entire general aviation community will be drawn to this strategically positioned development. These prestigious and innovative facilities at John Wayne Airport will be highly differentiated, feature superior design and architecture, provide an extreme level of privacy and security, be highly sustainable all while being economically prudent.
